Why Sponsor NELC?

Sponsoring the National Employment Law Council is an investment in a legacy of excellence, diversity, and leadership in the field of management-side labor and employment law—from rising talent to the profession's most accomplished leaders. Sponsorship funds high-impact programs like the advanced level NELC Annual Conference, cutting edge webinars and town halls on top of mind developing issues, coaching for mid-career outside counsel on perfecting their client pitches, the renowned Academy providing skills building and a national network for junior employment defense associates, the In-House Career Accelerator Program for new in-house counsel, and countless opportunities for mentorship and collaboration amongst in-house counsel, and attorneys from law firms of every size. NELC members include nationally recognized employment trial lawyers, chief legal officers, global heads of employment, and many others. Together, we're shaping a stronger, more inclusive profession — one that equips every attorney to thrive, contribute, and lead with excellence.
